Presentation: Karen Sterling- Student Advocacy and Access at district Karen is responsible for all federal and state programs and helps with wrap around supports that keep students in their schools. There is great concern for the mental health of youth in our district, the district has created relationship with Valley Behavior Health and linked them with the schools to de-stigmatize mental health problems. The help Valley Behavioral Health provides goes beyond the scope of what the school can do. This program, helps promote skills in students that allows them to be functional within the school system

Susan Pizitz Valley Behavior Health, she is over school based programs this fall they are providing supports for 42 schools. In 7-8 high schools. 10th graders are most at risk for suicide, 1 in 5 kids has a mental health disorder and 80% are not treated, the goal is to get students into services, therapists are not in schools to have outpatient clients, the goal is to keep the student attached to the school and the support they have there. No money is exchanged on site. There is no commitment from the district in terms of money, it serves insured, underfunded, and uninsured. FERPA and HIPPA laws honored, It is a resource available to the community, not something you have to do. Teachers and counselors refer students. School team identifies the students who they think needs help, call parent, referral is given. Makes it possible to give kids and families immediate help. Parent has to consent to letting the child see the therapist. They want students to get the services where it is easiest, and most convenient. District does have a policy about suicide and suicide ideation. Proposed that we begin having support from valley mental health Lisa Devashrayee motions and Janiece Spencerwise seconds

Suicide Response: Hope Squad Presentation- Kelli Miller, Cindy Baker and Janice Spencer-Wise Today was random acts of kindness day, trying to give people an idea of what hope squad does, students did random acts of kindness in exchange for a lifesaver, positive peer pressure to participate, on the announcements hope squad was introduced, all students nominate up to 3 students for hope squad, as well as an adult. The hope is that school will have a closer knit community. Students are not being trained to be counselors but being the eyes and the ears of the school and if they identify people they are worried about they know what to do about it. Training is set up for 3 years. Reminder of the safe Utah app, call, chat, or send a tip, to the crisis line. Pushing the app next week.

CSIP/Land Trust

Trimester Discussion Ms. Hilton and board member Tingey printed justification for trimester. (please see attached) there has been some pressure from the district about the trimester, the administration is planning on doing an official survey about community feelings about the trimester, for students, teachers, and parents. Hadfield supports the trimester----hurts performing arts program, math or English might get split up 1 to 3 tri and that makes things difficult sometimes.

Update CHRC after school program- "Bruins to Bengals" Operational 3 kids showed up, Long and Knoble were there, butler PTSA is running programs opposite days as us. If a student attends 36 hours they can get a ¼ elective credit. Clubs will be helping to tutor. We have to start to making interventions sooner.
