School and Community Info

Brighton High School is a comprehensive public high school in the Canyons School District serving grades 9–12. Originally opened in 1969, the school was fully rebuilt in 2022 into a forward-looking, collaborative learning campus. Brighton draws students from diverse neighborhoods at the base of the Wasatch Mountains. The school emphasizes both academic rigor and extracurricular involvement, with strong programs in college preparation, athletics, fine arts, and career/technical education

Cottonwood Heights is located in Salt Lake County, Utah, United States, along the east bench of the Salt Lake Valley. Approximately 11 miles south of Salt Lake City. Utah Metropolitan Statistical Area with a population of 33,433. At the eastern edge of the city, these valleys narrow into the Big and Little Cottonwood Canyons within the Wasatch Mountains, respectively; this is reflected by the city's official nickname, "City between the canyons". Residents are actively involved with the school and show strong support for Brighton High programs and activities.

Curriculum

School is in session for 180 days a year on a traditional nine-month calendar using a five-period trimester schedule. Trimesters are approximately 13 weeks long. Students attend all 5 periods each day, as well as APP, a study hall designed to allow students time to receive extra help, complete grade checks, and get work done during the school day. Brighton offers honors, Advanced Placement and concurrent enrollment classes through Salt Lake Community College and Weber State. Brighton is the only school in the district that has the AP Seminar course.
